

Democracy depends on the public discussion of a variety of views. Increasingly we are getting giant media oligarchs whose control of radio, TV and print media in a given market inhibits the dissemination of alternative viewpoints.

I strongly urge the FCC not to weaken the existing limits on media ownership, but rather strengthen them. Instead of a limit of 35%, much better to lower the limit for any one conglomerate to no more than 15% in a given market.